

Texas Republican voters don't want the government to regulate online speech.

So why are Texas Republican legislators pushing SB 12 to regulate social media websites?

61% of Texas Republicans don't want the government to force social media to host content that offends users.

74% of Texas Republicans think the government should allow social media to remove offensive posts to make their sites more family and workplace friendly.

Of Texans with an opinion, 68% do not support SB 12 because it would force social media to carry foreign state-run media like publishers controlled by Iran or Communist China.

Oppose SB 12.

Find full poll results at netchoice.org/sb12tx

NetChoice